RAMBLES ABOUT TOWN.

AN HOUR IN OUR BOOKSTORES.

☞ The very long continuation of this dry weather, the remarkable and almost unprecedented heat which has prevailed for the last fortnight, together with the general dearth of news in our exchanges, have combined to produce a very unpleasant effect upon our nervous system, and to render the daily task of catering for our readers more than usually irksome and oppressive. At least we found it so yesterday; when we seated ourself in our chair editorial and endeavored to pen an article for to-day's paper. Notwithstanding the almost endless variety of important and interesting local topics, with which the city and Territory abound, we essayed in vain to select something for the gratification of our patrons We tried first one subject, and then another—but all in vain—and after several fruitless attempts, we threw aside the pen in disgust, and again left the tedious confinement of our office, determined upon sallying forth into the open air and breathing awhile the pure atmosphere of heaven. Upon first issuing from our sanctum, we found the sultry heat of a July sun to be almost beyond our powers of endurance, and already repenting of our inclination to ramble, we were about turning back, when a golden thought struck us, and acting immediately upon its impulse we wended our way to Emery's Confectionary.

We found his superlatively excellent soda fount, surrounded by a swarm of eager individuals, all anxiously waiting their turn for the effervescent beverage; we could not but reflect, as the cooling drink washed down our parched and dusty throat, that did indulgence in this habit produce intoxication, we certainly should be a confirmed inebriate. After discussing the merits of a couple of his best ice creams, we left the gentlemanly proprietor of this unrivaled establishment, with the settled conviction that your true philanthropists, during the continuance of these dog days, were the venders of ice creams and soda water.

Feeling so much invigorated after our delicious repast, we sauntered down Water street, reflecting upon the strange vicissitudes of human life, and occasionally glancing our eyes at the piles of brick and mortar with which a large portion of the street is filled. One standing in the midst of this great quantity of building materials, and viewing the large number of beautiful and substantial stores that are now in the process of erection, cannot but be impressed with the firm belief, that our town in a very few years will become a city of some twenty or thirty thousand inhabitants.

The din and bustle of this business street were so great, that it needed no stretch of the imagination to fancy ourself in some of the large metropolitan cities: accordingly, in order to avoid the suffocating cloud of dust, we turned our steps from this great thoroughfare, and strolled down along the banks of our pleasant, gently flowing river.

We noticed an unusually large number of vessels lying in the river, all busily employed in receiving and discharging their cargoes, and speaking another volume for the rapid increase of our commercial prosperity. Notwithstanding the delightful scene that was presented to our view—the beautiful meandering river—the calm, unrippled surface of the placid lake, dotted here and there with vessels, their snow white sails glistening in the sun, and forcibly reminding us of what has been said and sung of the deep blue waves of the Pacific—the gigantic steamer just now rounding the headland, with her immense clouds of smoke, extending to the extreme verge of the horizon—the fine panoramic view of our town—notwithstanding, we say, all these combined attractions, we began to find that the heat of the sun was again becoming intolerable. But luckily for us, we had by this time arrived at the spacious warehouse built by General Reed, and occupied by our enterprising fellow citizen Mr. J. E. M'Clure. Here indeed we found a pleasant retreat from the powerful rays of the sun; and after resting our wearied limbs, and refreshing ourself with a glass of the pure unadulterated ale of father Adam, we made a survey of the warehouse. We could not but admire the very faithful and substantial manner in which it was built; we understand that the builder has remarked that you could fill the whole building with lead, from floor to ceiling, "from turret to foundation stone," without the least injury to the warehouse; and one need only look at the solid structure, in order to be convinced of the truth of his assertion. Then again its mammoth dimensions will entirely prevent any confusion, and vexatious delays in forwarding goods, which are oftentimes unavoidable in small, crowded warehouses; and its comparatively isolated situation, renders it perfectly safe from casualty by fire. And the fact that all of General Reed's boats stop there, together with the promptitude and despatch with which Mr. M'Clure transacts his business, is sufficient to ensure to him a continued increase of public favor. Where there are so many excellent warehouses, it may seem invidious to particularize; but we know we are safe in saying that this warehouse is only equalled, and certainly not surpassed by anything of the kind in the western country.

Taking leave of this cooling retreat, we slowly wended our way toward our office, almost envying the good fortune of those, who, during this hot weather, can enjoy their otium cum dig, without the exercise of bodily or mental labor. We had nearly arrived to the place of our destination, when we were accosted by Mr. Wilshire, of the firm of Messrs. Wilshire & Co., and requested to step in and examine some of the new publications, with which his counter is always supplied. We gladly accepted his invitation, for we had not yet "screwed up our courage to that sticking point," which was requisite to seat ourself in our sanctum and indite something for our paper. We gladly availed ourself of this pretext, to while away another hour, before we returned to the daily labors of our vocation. Besides we have a natural penchant for Bookstores; we love to hold sweet communion with the mighty dead, and silently to pore over the pages of those great spirits who are thus brought into almost actual contact with us. We found the shelves numerous, and the number of volumes multitudinous. From the want of a retentive memory we can only recollect the following:—

A great variety of beautiful bibles and testaments—gilt edged, Turkey morocco and common binding.
Prayer Books—beautiful editions.
Bibles, Prayer and Psalms, in one volume—richly bound.

The day was warm, the air oppressive, and the bustle and confusion among the living multitude in the street so great as to mock all attempts at reading. As we turned to leave the store, the glitter of fancy articles arrested our attention, and upon a farther examination we found that Wilshire had not neglected this necessary department of a Book Store. There were

And the largest lot of room paper we have seen in these "diggins."

Father investigation was impossible. Thought here inactive. The exertions of the morning, and the oppressive heat of the day, drove us to our office, where we ensconced ourself in the old arm chair, and lulled by the sonorus "heave ho" from the sailors on board a vessel in the river, we sank into that state of sweet forgetfulness, in allusion to which the poet says

"The mind's wings o'erspread the spirit world of dreams."

Important from Washington—Rumored Settlement of the Oregon Boundary.

We have already had vague rumors, that the Administration contemplated a settlement of the Oregon question on the basis we have always insisted was the just one—namely, the line of 49 degrees North Intitude—but the following is the first reliable announcement we have seen. It is from a gentleman of high character, who is not likely to be deceived:

Washington, 3d July, '45.

We have had a rumor for the last few days, that the Oregon question has been settled—the 49th degree being the compromise line. I have reason to believe it is true. *H——, told me this morning he apprehended it was so Mr. Calhoun in his correspondence refused to entertain such a proposition. He contended for the 54th. Benton and many other prominent locofocos will denounce the authors of it.

With regard to Removals, they have become so common, that they cease to create any sensation, except among those immediately interested

If this rumor shall prove true, we shall heartily approve and sustain the act of Administration, in settling this long-vexed question We believe the line of 49 degrees is the just and proper line, and a better line for this country than that of 54 degrees 40 minutes would be. Yet if it be so settled, what must be thought of those who last year fished for and won Western votes in thousands by formally proclaiming out right to the whole of Oregon "clear and unquestionable!" Are they not indictable for obtaining votes under false pretenses? What shall be said of the declaration in Polk's Inaugural?—[N. Y. Tribune.

* One very likely to be well informed.—[Ed Trib.

Mr. Joseph Burke.—It will be a gratification to the numerous friends and admirers of Mr. Burke, to state that he has finished his course of practice with M. De Beriot at Brussels, and now nothing will detain him abroad except the visits which he will make to his relations. His last letters state us that he was en route for Dublin, where his connexions reside, and that it was his intention to proceed from thence to London, in which city he contemplates giving one or two concerts. He may also give a few concerts in Paris He sails for home in the early part of September, and upon his arrival we confidently expect to hear evidences that will assure us his time abroad has not been idly spent. We understand that De Beriot pronounces him one of the first violinists in the world.—[Albany Atlas.

Coming to America.—The Sligo (Ireland) Champion says: "The emigration from this port to America still continues unabated: our streets are filled daily with carts, loaded with goods and persons leaving their native country to seek a livelihood in the back woods of the State, and we are sorry to say the emigration is not confined to mere laborers and their children, but numbers of small farmers apparently of good means are flying from their native country, despairing of being able to provide for themselves and their little families at home."

Early Peaches.—Ripe peaches, of good flavor and size, were offered in the Savannah market on Thursday last, and found ready purchases at 25 cents per dozen.

☞ A court buffoon having offended his sovereign, the monarch sentenced him to death. The culprit, in great terror, fell upon his knees, and cried for mercy. —"I will extend no other mercy to you," said the prince, "except permitting you to choose what kind of death you will die Decide immediately, for I will be obeyed." "I adore your clemency," said the crafty jester; "I choose to die of old age."

A Ready Retort.—A drunken lawyer going into church, was observed by the minister, who addressed him thus: "I will bear witness against that sinner at the day of judgment."—The lawyer shaking his head with drunken gravity, replied—"I have practised twenty years at the bar, and have always found the greatest rascal is the first to turn State's evidence.

"Touch not, handle not."—One of those meddling gentleman, who, like Thomas of old, are never satisfied until they have put their finger on every thing they see, was not long since observed by a friend with his hand "done up" to use an every day phrase, in some half a dozen handkerchiefs. He accosted him with the usual question,

"What ails your hand?"

"Why," said he, "t'other day I went into the mill to see 'em saw clapboards, and I saw a thing whirling round so swift, and it looked so smooth and slick that I thought I'd just touch my finger to it, and see how it felt, and don't you think it took the eend of it right off, and then they hollored out, You mus'n't touch that, its the carcilar saw that saws all the clapboards; but they spoke half a second too late—the eend of my finger was gone, and I never seed it since."

Maine and Rhode Island.—A series of resolutions protesting against the manner in which the State of Maine interfered in the State affairs of Rhode Island was introduced and passed in the Rhode Island House by a vote of 41 to 26. The resolutions were ordered printed with the proceedings of the court that tried Dorr, copies to be sent to Governors of States, and others. The General Assembly adjourned at half past three o'clock on Saturday morning, to meet again in October.

Religious.—It is expected that the Rev. Mr. Lord, Pastor of the Unitarian Church of this city will preach from the desk of that house, to-morrow.

DISSOLUTION.—The copartnership heretofore existing between John Lowther, E. Warner, jr. and Wm. H. Palmer is this day dissolved by mutual consent. The debts due the above firm, will be settled by Lowther & Warner.

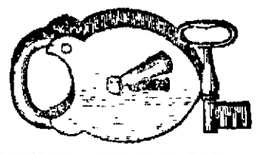
Milwaukie Iron Store.



HARDWARE IRON, NAILS &c.

NAZRO & KING are now receiving their Spring stock of heavy and shelf hardware, to which they will constantly be making additions. We are now able to offer a complete assortment of Goods in our line, to which we would call the attention of all who may wish to purchase for cash. Our stock having been laid in before the advancement, we feel confident that we can make such prices as will insure a ready sale. Having made arrangements with Eastern Hardware Manufacturers from whom we obtain our supplies, we can make it an object for country merchants to buy of us, and thus save them the disadvantage of buying an over stock. We shall endeavor to keep on hand a full stock of Tools and Farming Utensils, and will furnish at short notice, any amount of building material that may be wanted. Having adopted the system of serving all at one price, those who may favor us with orders, can rely on our doing as well by them as if they were here themselves.

WEST WARD FOREVER!

R. HOUGHTON takes this method to inform the customers of the late firm of R. H. & Co., and the public generally, that the business in future will be conducted by him at the old stand, where he will receive, in the course of the present week, a general assortment of Fancy and Staple

DRY GOODS,

Groceries, Crockery and Glassware, Hardware, Nails, Oils, Paints, &c —All of which will be offered for sale at a small advance from cost for cash or most kinds of country produce.

Believing the cash or ready pay system to be the cheapest and eventually the most profitable for the buyer as well as the seller, that principle will be adopted and strictly adhered to.—He does not wish to "puff" and boast of his long residence and extensive acquaintance in New York—great facilities and extraordinary abilities in purchasing goods, &c.: or even say he will sell cheaper than any body else—but he does wish to say, his motto being "live and let live," and on the principle that a "nimble sixpence is better than a slow shilling," that he will sell "as cheap as the cheapest," the truth of which, he pledges himself to demonstrate to the entire satisfaction of every one who may favor him with a call. may22

COME ONE, COME ALL!

GREAT ATTRACTION AT DAYAN'S

I AM now receiving a large stock of new, fashionable, fancy and staple Goods, suited to the tastes and wants of the public. I wish my customers and the public generally to distinctly understand first, that my stock must be sold;—secondly, that it will be sold at prices that will challenge a comparison with any west of Buffalo:—thirdly, that in extent, beauty, variety and cheapness, it is second to none;—fourthly, that, as my terms are exclusively cash, my customers are not required to pay the percentage necessary to guard against bad debts;—and lastly, that I have but from which there is no deviation.

ONE PRICE

In my stock of Dry Goods is a choice selection of

DRESS GOODS

Balzorines, Lawns, De Laines (new style)
Ginghams, Eolennes Adelaides,
Bombazines, Silks, Prints, &c.

SHAWLS AND SCARFS,

Silks, Berage, Balzorine, De Laine,

Moleskins, Blue Jeans, Twill Linens,
Bleached Shirtings and Sheetings,
Table Linen, Diaper, Batts, Yarn &c.

In the line of

GROCERIES

I am confident in the belief and satisfied that my prices will verify it, that I can make better offers than any one in town, for the reason that my stock was bought before the great rise in the market; an advantage of which my customers will reap the benefit. The stock is unusually large, and comprises every thing that can be named in that line.

In conclusion, all I ask is an examination of the stock, and a comparison of quality and prices. A G DAYAN,
